

venice

MARCH 2005

$3.50

TREACH SHIVAREE
IAN BROWN
MIKE BINDER
ROBIN WEIGERT
BRITTANY SNOW
FREDRIC ROBERTS
SHARON WAXMAN
MATTHEW CARNAHAN

FROM COACH TO COUNTRY
SAMUEL L. JACKSON IS, HANDS DOWN, THE MAN

Michael Silverblatt on March 11 at the Royce Hall. Already a formi- literary figure in England, A.S. became an overnight sensation in ited States with her Booker Prize- g novel Possession: A Romance.

like writing a letter to a farmer and award-win- author David Mas moto's column for the Bee is written in the form rs. From the unique per- ve of a farmer on a work- rm, he talks about the concerns we all share g with change and trying ect and preserve a way of raft Class with Ryosen ta: Spring Flower ng Cards" Mar. 26, 1pm. uy a generic greeting card you can create your own s version? Welcome the e of season by designing with images of seasonal s. 369 East First St, LA. iamn.org or (800) 461-g the Cosmic Veil: The id Universe Revealed by itzer Space Telescope" l, 8pm. Michael Werner, as been working on the t Infrared Telescope y since 1977, explains r's images and spectra e revolutionary scientific s they have produced. admission. Caltech, an Auditorium, 332 South an Ave, Pasadena. vents.caltech.edu or 95-4652.

ry Stages at the Canal ery second Sun. of the 11am: Participants enjoy ptuous brunch followed rt story readings that are ted by some of the coun- est writers and actors. ions are broadcasted on (89.9 FM). 2025 Pacific Venice. www.literarys- om or (310) 398-9999.

Present: Holly Block 3pm, at PDC. Block, tive director of Art in il, speaks on the work of artist Carlos Garaicoa. ur S. Ramachandran, 10, 6:30pm, at MGA. handran, director of the for Brain and Cognition professor, psychology ment and neurosciences m, UCSD, discusses the ion Visual Music. Class— I Music": Mar. 19, 10:00

Hollywood. www.moca.org or (213) 626.6222.

OCMA Presents: Class— "Women in Art: Beyond the Stereotype" Mar. 07— Apr. 04. The class focuses on the important women artists from the past two decades who seek new territory in their artwork from photography to installation art. Artists include Kim Dingle, Rebecca Horn, Yayoi Kusama, Maya Lin, and Kiki Smith. Mondays, Mar. 7, 14, 21, 28 & Apr. 4. 1:30 pm-3:30 pm, Lyon Auditorium. $110 OCMA members, $120 Non-members. (949) 759-1122. Spotlight Talks—Every Tue, noon. Mar. 15: Lecture On Bruce Conner, Cross. Mar. 22: On Joseph Grigely, Fireside Talk #2. Mar. 29: On Lee Mullican, The Measurement. Free admission. 850 San Clemente Drive, Newport Beach. www.www.ocma.net or (949) 759-1122.

OTIS Collage of Art + Design Presents:

Storytelling festival March 4, 3pm-8pm. A day of African drums, mask making, super- natural stories & personal experience narratives told by oral tale tellers, tales from Black America, Frank Chin and guests reading pieces on Japanese American internments during WWII, and gospel singing. Paulina Olowaska Mar. 9, 11am. Olowaska, born in 1976 in Poland, studied painting and graphic art and currently lives in Warsaw. Her work is rooted in both the modern movement and in the Bauhaus tradition, and expresses her fascination with modern utopias. Mary Jane Jacob "In the Space of Art" Mar. 31, 7:30pm. Professor of Sculpture at The School of Art Institute, Jacob has created over 50 exhibitions and commissioned over 100 new artists projects as chief curator at MCA/Chicago and MOCA. Free admission. 9045 Lincoln Blvd, LA. www.otis.edu or (310) 665-6909.

The Sacred Spaces Workshop Every Thu. 7:45-9pm. For thousands of years human beings have naturally included dance and music in their everyday existence, as a means to connect with the divine, to channel emotion, to experience mystery.

loop throughout the evening with stops at each venue. www.artnightpasadena.org

California Sculptors Help Raise Funds For Children With Learning Mar. 11, 6-8pm & Mar.

Craig Carlisle, "Teddy Bird Balloon" 8' x 10' in, acrylic on panel, 2004. From the artist's exhibition at the George Bilis Gallery through March 26

13, 2-5pm. The Frostig Center is hosting two exclusive events to introduce an extraordinary suite of bronze sculptures by five of today's most compelling artists. Proceeds benefit the Frostig Center's program for children with learning disabilities. Mar. 11 at the Bergamot Station: 2525 Michigan Ave G1, Santa Monica. Mar. 13 at the Pasadena Museum of California Art: 490 East Union St, Pasadena. www.frostig.org or (626) 791-1255.

Fairplex Flea Market Mar. 20, 6am-3pm. The popular event, regularly held at the Rose Bowl, is making its first appearance at Fairplex. A day filled with shopping, picnic and fun! The event takes place rain or shine. 1101 West McKinley Avenue, Pomona. www.fairplex.com or (909) 623-3111.

KCRW Presents: A Sounds Eclectic Evening March 12, 7:45pm. Southern California's number one public radio station 89.9 FM KCRW presents its fourth annual benefit concert. Coldplay headlines the show in a full band electric set. Also on day exhibition of live body painting and photography by Filippo loco. The event features loco's body painting photography work from 1990 to present and also 100 Glicee prints in color from painted fashion and landscapes to animals. The artist is scheduled to create a special live body painting installation at the reception. A raffle for a body painting and photography session with Filippo loco and a silent auction of 12 selected prints from his work are held throughout the evening. Proceeds from the auction and raffle are donated to RAINN/LA BCA. Suggested donation $10. Covert Gallery, 1654 Schrader, LA. www.karleeartist.com/pink or (323) 878-2768.

Steppenwolf Theatre Company Presents: 2nd annual Celebrity Golf Classic. March 10th-13th, Rancho Mirage. The tournament features both celebrity and professional players, a benefit fundraiser for Steppenwolf, now in its 29th season as America's premier actors' Theater. A special addition to this year's event schedule is a private screening of The Upside of Anger from New Line Cinema on March 11th. The film stars Steppenwolf ensemble member Joan Allen, and is followed by a Q&A. Celebrity golfers scheduled to participate include four-time PGA tour winner Chip Beck, Peter Gallagher, Paul Glaser, Gregory Harrison, Robert Loggia, Bruce McGill, Eric Simonson and Gary Sinise. (312) 654-5617.

Westweek 2005: Celebrating 30 Years of Design Experience Mar. 30-31. The Pacific Design Center welcomes keynote speakers, presentations and showroom exhibitions that bring together the finest professionals, ideas and products in design. A celebration of the future of design with days of events guaranteed to inspire and inform today's design professional. With over 50 showroom programs, open houses and presentations by industry leaders Westweek 2005 celebrates over 30 years of design excellence. Pacific Design Center, 8687 Melrose Ave, LA. www.pacificdesigncenter.com or (310) 360-6419.

